Baloian Farms Statement on Recall of Imperial Fresh Red Onions in Western Canada

The Baloian Farms management, food safety and sales teams have been monitoring the recall by Sysco of Imperial Fresh Jumbo Red Onions in Western Canada very closely.

The recall does not affect any product grown or shipped by Baloian Farms. We currently do not share any production areas, grower partners or product with the affected product and suppliers thus far associated with the recall in progress.

No product produced by Baloian Farms and its partners has been packed in the Imperial Fresh label or supplied to Sysco for repackaging.

We will continue to monitor the information released and will update this statement as required.

Sincerely,

Peter Baloian
Food Safety Director, Baloian Farms
